Stanley Calls Special Session of The Legislature

As might have been expected, Gov. Stanley has called an extra session of the Kentucky Legislature to convene Feb. 4th—Valentine Day—to enact a new tax law.

The farmers oppose the proposed law, but the large manufacturers and capitalists favor it. In all parts of the State farmers have held meetings, passed resolutions condemning the proposed law and petitioning the Governor not to call an extra session of the Legislature.

When Stanley opened his campaign for Senator at Flemingsburg a few years ago in opposition to Senator Beckham, and he so flayed the L. & N. railroad and other corporations who wilfully and defiantly disobey the laws of our State, we thought he was just the man, but we now see that he is only a sham. He used his platform to get in on—not to stand on.

We like law-abiding corporations, but want them to pay the same tax that we do.

Mrs. Skidmore Laid to Rest.

The remains of Mrs. Elizabeth Skidmore, whose death notice appeared briefly in these columns last week, was laid to rest in the beautiful D. R. McKinney burial grounds on Hardwick's Creek last Friday after a short funeral discourse by the Rev. E. S. Wilson, pastor of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Skidmore is survived by two brothers; Wm. Shinfessel, with whom she made her home on Hardwick's Creek, and P. R. Shinfessel, of Fayette county. Mrs. Nannie McKinney, widow, and Miss Annie Shinfessel, sisters, also remain, who reside with their brother, Wm. Shinfessel.

For County Clerk

Mr. Chas. P. Rogers, of Xenia, in this week's issue of the Times, is letting the voters of the county know that he is in the race for County Court Clerk.

Mr. Rogers is a young man, twenty-four years old, and is well qualified to fill the office. He is a son of Dr. I. T. Rogers, who is known to every person in the county, we suppose. The personality of this capable young man, and the connecting chain of his father's popularity, makes him, indeed, a very strong candidate. The Times requests its readers to give due consideration to Mr. Rogers' candidacy.

One Week's Respite.

City Collector C. P. McIntosh brought to our office Tuesday the delinquent city list to have same advertised in this week's issue, but it was too late for this week, so the same will not appear until next week. We do hope by that time every taxpayer will have his receipt and the Collector the city's money. It will eat us out of our advertising bill, but this is one thing we hate to do, advertise property for a tax sale. We would far rather lose the fee than to do the work, but it seems it occasionally has to be done.

John Clemons Found Dying in Bed

Thursday night at about twelve o'clock, John Clemons passed away at his home near Virden. His son, Corey Clemons, who was sleeping with his father, was awakened by his difficult breathing. He raised up his father in bed, but he passed away in a few seconds. Mr. Clemons up till the evening he died was apparently in the best of health, thus it is supposed that he died of heart failure. Funeral services were held at the Virden church Sunday afternoon by Elders W. A. Smithers and D. P. Potts, after which services the remains were laid to rest in the church yard there. He was about 55 years old and a member of the Christian church at Virden.

Deceased is survived by three sons and three daughters, as follows: Simpson Clemons, of Dayton, O., and Corey and Willie Clemons, of the county; Mrs. John W. Williams, of Sardis, Miss., Mrs. John Henry Wells, of Dayton, and Mrs. Chas. Stewart, of the county.

For Sheriff

Mr. Fielding G. Powell, of Xenia, comes out for Sheriff of Powell county this week.

Mr. Powell has had experience as Deputy in performing the duties of this office, and, being as he is, a fearless and consistent gentleman, would make an ideal man for the office he seeks. He is well known in all parts of the county, and has ever been a true and tried Democrat. His popularity makes him a formidable candidate.

Democrats of the county should well consider his claims in making up their mind for whom they will vote.

Gets Large Store at Beattyville.

W. E. Hackworth, of Beattyville, and Gran Hackworth, of this city, have purchased the entire stock of general merchandise of the Day Lumber & Coal Company at Beattyville. They also get the furniture and fixtures. The store will remain in charge of W. E. Hackworth, who has been superintendent of the business for some time. Mr. Gran Hackworth will continue his connection with the Day store in this city.

Deserter in Bad

Hubert Blakey has been arrested charged with deserting the Hospital Corps, Second Kentucky National Guard, and turned over to military authorities, and in all probability will have to stand court martial. Young Blakey is a son of T. B. Blakey, of Beattyville, who was Assistant Attorney General during the A. E. Wilson administration at Frankfort.

To Have Sale.

B. H. Barnett, of the western portion of the county, was in the city the last of the week and had some sale bills printed advertising a sale at his place near Log Lick, Saturday, the 10th. He will dispose of all his personal property at this sale. Read the posters and attend the sale.

For County Judge.

Mr. Horace G. Crabtree authorizes The Times in this issue to announce him a candidate for County Judge of Powell county, and, of course, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Crabtree is out in a brief card telling you some of the things he is for. Mr. Crabtree is an honorable, upright citizen, just and fair to all, and with his progressive spirit at the head of the fiscal affairs of the county, it is safe to say things would move in the right direction. And, further, with his spirit of economy combined with the getting of our needs, it seems would make him a fit man for the place. But as there will be other candidates in the field, we pass up his consideration to the loyal Democrats of the county, asking them to weigh well his worth with that of all other candidates.

A Whizzer from Alaska

From Friday and Tuesday we had very severe winter weather, the thermometer during this time hovering about zero up to Sunday morning when the temperature went up above the freezing point. About 1 o'clock, however, things began to change, the worse snow storm coming that the writer remembers ever seeing. The thermometer dropped 22 degrees in less than one hour, the cold wind blowing furiously up till in the night, when the temperature got down to six below zero. The cold continued until Tuesday when it moderated a little again.

Poor people living in bad houses and live-stock not housed, suffered considerably from the excessively cold winds.

Wants Names of Breeders.

Matt S. Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture, Frankfort, will put out a publication by February 20 giving the names of all the pure breeders of fowls in the State together with the breed of fowls raised and the address of each. We have been asked to supply names of breeders in Powell county, which we would gladly do if we knew of any in the county raising purebred fowls. If there be any such poultrymen in the county, and they will furnish us with the desired information, we will gladly report them to the Frankfort authorities who will publish their names along with other purebred poultrymen of the State.

Hauling in Lumber.

Carter Reynolds, who is having a quantity of pine lumber cut on his farm two miles south of this city, is hauling the same to the railroad tracks here and stacking it, so it will be convenient to load on cars when he sells it. Mr. Reynolds is rushing matters up to be ready when Spring comes to plant his crops on time as it behooves all farmers to do.

The Highest Price Yet

It seems that tobacco will never stop soaring in price. Last week a basket of the weed sold at Paris for $150.00. This is the highest price yet realized for tobacco sold on any market in Kentucky.

Kincaid--Scott

Mr. Ben F. Kincaid, of this city, now residing at Dayton, Ohio, and Miss Mahel Scott, of Dayton, were married in that city last Tuesday, Jan. 30th.

Mr. Kincaid is a son of Frank Kincaid of this city, and is well and favorably known here. Miss Scott, with her father's family, formerly lived at Lexington, where Mr. Kincaid had known her, and the marriage was the culmination of a romance of several years.

The Poet of The Times,
Having counted up the cost,
Has quit the world of rhymes—
Our Poet, we have lost.
Having counted up the cost—
"No more for two than one!"—
Not a moment then was lost
Till the wedding work was done.
For a living he must go!
So he threw away his pen—
And thus we lost our Poet
When Mahel captured Ben.

Railroad Travel Holds Up

Travel on all railroads of the country has been unusually good all of this winter. It usually drops off in January and February, but this has not been the case this winter. The Florida fever has been the best in years.

From a Pennsylvania Friend.

Murov, Pa., Jan. 29 '17.
Dear Mr. Burgher:—
I am enclosing you $1.00 in currency to pay my subscription to the "Clay City Times" for one year.

I have often wondered if your business was endowed, or how you managed to keep the wolf away from the door, when you spent your time and energy publishing fifty-two good newsy little papers each year for the meager sum of fifty cents. Why, you should have $1.00 per year if you were presented with all the print paper you could use, besides I believe all your patrons will agree that you are entitled to the price you have fixed.

Wishing you much success in boosting and helping your town and country, I am

Very truly yours,
W. O. REAMER.

Announcing for County Judge

I announce myself a candidate for County Judge of Powell county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, Aug. 4th, 1917.

I want to say to the voters of Powell county that if I am nominated and elected County Judge, I pledge you a faithful, honest and impartial administration of our laws. I pledge you an economical administration of our county government, and to collect no more tax than is necessary to meet the expenses of a business administration.

I pledge you that the accruing yearly road funds shall be equally distributed and expended for the maintenance of all the roads of the county, and that no favoritism will be shown to any section of the county.

I pledge you that in the discharge of the duties of County Judge, I will do equal justice to the poor and to the rich without fear or favor.

Respectfully,
H. G. CRABTREE.

J. S. Ewen made a business trip to Shawnee, Tuesday.

D. R. Clark made a business trip to Jackson last week and also to T. C. Johnson's at Tallega.

E. G. Cawgill had the misfortune to have his ears severely frost-bitten during the late blizzard.

J. C. Eversole of Letcher county has been visiting his son R. L. Eversole. He returned home Monday.

Any one having good mules can readily dispose of them in the oil fields, where they will bring good prices.

Mrs. William Neal of Morris creek has been quite sick this past week and is unable to speak only in a whisper.

Jim Stone was home from the oil fields at Union Hall, over Sunday. Jim says there is a lot of activity going on out there, and plenty of work.

Charley Crowe is going back and forth to Winchester attending Wesleyan College. He finds it cheaper to do that than to room and board in Winchester.

Maude Belcher died at the home of his son in law, Vernon Kirk, and was buried at the Mt. Canaan cemetery Sunday afternoon while the blizzard was at its worse.

Miss Mollie Johnson, who was a teacher in Stanton College last year, is now teaching at Elizabethtown, according to a card received by Miss Evans, Tuesday.

Miss Catherine Baker's parents have moved from Tennessee to the Robert Blackburn house. Catherine will now stay with them instead of at the Dormitory.

Do not forget that Richard Crowe, who is attending Berea College, will come up to preach at the Christian church this coming Sunday. Everybody is invited out.

We never knew why Everett Reynolds went to Cat Creek so often to attend that good Sunday School, but we're pretty well posted now, thank you! And here's wishing you success, Everett.

Ross Hall and Master Jim were in Lexington last week taking in the sights of the city. The waiters at the Phoenix hotel were so taken up with James that they took him over the hotel to show him around.

There is a mighty fine Sunday School going on at Cat Creek, with John Lowe as leader. The people are taking great interest in it—young and old are coming. It was a delight to visit there this past Sunday.

The Cook children have joined their parents up at Ashley's in the Standing-Rock oil field. Calson Blackburn took them over there. He went there to work, but decided to remain in school, which is a good idea.

While President Wilson is at Washington trying to get Congress to pass a bill to tax corporations eight per cent. on all the earnings they make in excess of eight per cent. on the money they have invested, Governor Stanley is at Frankfort trying to get the State Legislature to pass a law to relieve them of all the tax possible in this State. A very marked difference between the two men. One is the servant of the people while the other is in the services of—it seems—some persons other than the common people. When Wilson asked for re-election the people remembered him. Likewise when Stanley wants office again the people will remember him.

The United Press Association, of Cleveland, is very much disturbed because of the impending probability of the passage of a law which will prevent the carrying of matter through the mails that serves to advertise liquor in any way and has appealed to the newspapers to help defeat the bills now before Congress with this end in view. Of course we will not do it because The Times is an original agitator of just such a law, and we are more than pleased at the thought of liquor advertising of all kinds, whether in newspapers or not, being excluded from the mails.

Another explanation of the differences between the Progressives and Republicans is that the "Colonel" and "Brother Perkins" are jealous of the publicity that Thomas W. Lawson is attracting and have taken measures to secure an equitable division of the limelight and front pages.

A record was established last year in the value of farm crops produced in the United States, notwithstanding that production of most of the crops fell short of records. The high prices made the aggregate crop value $8,934,587,000, as just announced by the Department of Agriculture. Texas, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, and Georgia headed the list, in the order named, in the value of crops produced by individual states.

It is said that good roads are always superceded by good business judgment. Now don't take this as a reflection on Powell county roads, for they certainly have been solid enough for anybody this week, a little bit rough, however.

The Indiana House has passed a bill prohibiting the manufacture, sale, distribution or advertisement of liquor in that state by a vote of 70 to 28. That sounds like business to us. Liquor has to go—the sooner the better.

"One bird in the hand is worth two in the bush," all right, but if its Legislatures in question, and we are to have two or more of them, we prefer both of them in the bush.

Several good men have thrown their hats into the Powell county political ring, and we are for them all, but are afraid some are going to get beat August 4th.

One of the disadvantages of a conscience is that it never seems to operate on a person who has defrauded the government out of more than ten dollars.

Now that a sure enough fight seems to be brewing, Teddy is unusually quiet.

Winter Brings Colds to Children.

A child rarely goes through the whole winter without a cold, and every mother should have a reliable remedy handy. Fever, sore throat, tight chest and croupy coughs are sure symptoms. A dose of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey will loosen the phlegm, relieve the congested lungs and stop the cough. Its antiseptic pine balsams heal and soothe. For croup, whooping cough and chronic bronchial troubles try Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. At all druggists, 25c. adv.

Mules Sell by Weight.

A car load of mules was sold in Marion county last week by weight. They brought 20 cents per pound and 26 mules, the number in the car, averaged 998 pounds, thus netting $199.60 per head. This is considered a good price for the hybrids.

F. Lee Sheppy, 172 N. Halsted Street, Chicago, Ill., General Sales Manager of the largest concern of its kind in the world, wants three or four men in Powell county and several in adjoining counties, to work for him spare time or all the time. He can use only those who have a rig or auto. Work is very pleasant and no previous selling experience is necessary. Work consists of leaving a wonderful new household necessity in the homes on free trial. Tests at more than thirty of the leading Universities and the Government Bureau of Standards show this new article to be four times as efficient as article now in general use in this section. Article is needed in every rural home and benefits every member of the household, bringing cheer, comfort and happiness into the home. Not necessary to be away from home nights. Pay from $6.00 to $15.00 per day according to ability and number of homes visited. In writing Mr. Sheppy mention what townships will be most convenient for you to work in; what your regular occupation is; your age; married or single; how long you have lived in the community; what kind of a rig or auto you have; whether you wish to work spare time or steady; how much time you will have to devote to the work; when you can start, and about how many homes are within six miles of you in each direction. This is a splendid opportunity for several men in Powell county and counties adjoining to make good money, working steady or spare time. Some of the field men earn $300.00 per month; one farmer earned $1,000.00 working spare time only. No investment or bond necessary.

The board of directors of the local associations admits or rejects new members, according to their wishes. But most important of all, since this system is co-operative, the borrowers must provide the money for the increasing capital of the bank—and they do this by investing in the local associations.

Loans made under this system may not exceed fifty per cent of the appraised value of the land used as security, and twenty per cent of the appraised value of the permanent, insured improvements thereon.

Non-land owners may become members of an association by indicating in their application what land they expect to come into possession of and against which the mortgage will be placed.

Don't Cough Until Weak

Foley's Honey and Tar HELPS COUGHS QUICKLY

Foley's Honey and Tar takes right hold of an obstinate cough and gives quick relief.

It puts a healing coating on the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages. It stops the tickling, loosens and raises phlegm easily. It is just splendid for bronchial and grippe coughs, and tight, wheezy breathing.

Mrs. W. S. Bailey, Lancaster, Ky., coughed almost continuously day and night, until she took Foley's Honey and Tar. After taking half a bottle, her cough began to blow up, and seven bottles entirely cured her cough.

More About the Farm Loan Law.

Only farmers or prospective farmers may join the national farm loan associations, and it takes ten or more of them to make up one of these associations.

The process of organization is very simple. One of the members should write to the Federal Farm Loan Board, Washington, D. C., for blank articles of association, and when they have been received a meeting of prospective borrowers should be called and these articles of association adopted, signed and acknowledged by each member. Each of the members will indicate the amount he wishes to borrow and the value and description of the land he wishes to use as security.

This association elects five or more directors, and these directors elect a president, vice president, a secretary-treasurer and a loan committee of three members.

This is as far as the association can go until after the Federal land bank for that district is established. Then, upon application, that bank will furnish the local association with a blank application for a charter, which should be filled out and filed with the Federal land bank, along with the articles of association.

These documents should be accompanied by a written, unanimous report of the loan committee placing a valuation on the lands of each of the members.

Then the appraiser of the Federal land bank will come to inspect the lands of the members and O. K. or reject the valuation prepared by the loan committee.

No one farmer may borrow more than $10,000 nor less than $100. No national farm loan association may start with less than $20,000 of loans.

Each member joining the local association must buy stock in the association equal to five per cent of the amount he borrows. If he borrows $1,000 he will get $950 in cash and a certificate of stock for $50. Or he may make his loan $1,050 and thus have a net loan of $1,000, taking as long a time to repay the fifty dollars in stock as on the thousand dollars borrowed. This investment is for the purpose of providing the increasing capital of the Federal land bank, and the local association invests it in the land bank stock. The borrower will get his money back when he pays off his mortgage, and will get what dividends it earns while it is invested.

Now, what is the object of requiring the borrowers to thus group themselves into loan associations? Primarily that the loan associations may eventually own the Federal land banks.

This is a co-operative banking system and machinery must be provided for the government of the banks. Each of the local loan associations has a vote in the election of the directors in one of the Federal land banks. The loan committee, provided by the local association, is the agency for the valuation of the lands.

Kin Folks And Friends!

I have ten fingers and ten toes. I can count that much, but I just can't count all my good friends down South here—they are far too many.

And I'm mighty proud of them. The men who make me, say you can tell real quality by the company one keeps.

Blood will tell. A good name and good breeding count most of all.

And that same, I reckon, applies to cigarettes, too. More and more gentlemen of the South are smoking me, SOVEREIGN, every day, because they know I come from good old Virginia and Carolina stock—the finest, grandest stock in all the world.

Quality is the thing, friend—you can't deny it. And I stand for Quality.

Miss Annie Clark, who has been teaching school at Campton Jet., left for Berea College Tuesday. Annie is a graduate of Stanton College and we feel that she could go to no better school in the country than Berea. We doubt if there is a finer college in all the Southland, and one that is doing such thorough work as Berea. When a student goes out from Berea, she or she goes out as finely finished as any school can turn them out. We have heard of some in Stanton trying to run down Berea College. She needs no defense. The students she turns out are the best evidence one can desire. Last year 300 were turned away because she could not accommodate them. That speaks high of Berea.
